

Business is an Engine for Development and Economic Growth

Dr Ratnakar Adhikari

Chief Executive Director, South Asian
Watch on Trade Economics and
Environment (SAWTEE)

Business is the engine for economic growth and development. Business helps to make country prosper. It plays important role in creating employment, and helps in country's revenue collection too. Banking and Insurance sector should be emphasized to develop the business. It also helps in inviting foreign investment when investment increase, business gets competitive which helps for its sustainability. Technology development is equally important.